

Enabling Leading-Edge Technology Army Missions Depend On

Today's warfighters aren't just supported by technology – they are enabled by it so having access to superior IT solutions is critical to delivering on today's complex missions. Presidio Federal delivers both IT products and services, offering the full spectrum of solutions to meet our customers' needs — whether it is the latest piece of hardware or software, or a team to help you plot your next move on your IT modernization journey.

From ideation to implementation, we craft and build solutions to fit the Army's needs, bringing the right partners to the table to innovate beyond the challenge – always in support of the overall mission. Our goal is to exceed all performance requirement standards and ultimately deliver flexible, scalable, and comprehensive IT solutions to warfighters.

Presidio Federal is proud to serve the Army and the Department of Defense, both in the U.S. and abroad. We have a 30+ year track record as a trusted partner in the government supply chain, providing innovative IT solutions to challenges within the defense sector.

PAST PERFORMANCE

Our more than three decades of experience as an Army partner spans from providing mission support to server implementation and turnkey installation. From supporting abroad and throughout the United States, we are proud to provide full-spectrum IT support throughout the Army – from command centers and medical centers, to training support centers.
